IN THE WIND By Papa Wealey

Frenchman Jean-Michel Bayle (Hon) was crowned the King of Bercy at the four-day Paris Supercross held in Paris, France, November 28-29 and December 1-2. Bayle won all but the final day's competition, which fell to Amercan Jeff Stanton (Hon). Stanton's 3-3-3-1 finishes gave him second overall, while Doug Dubach (Yam) rounded out the top three with 4-2-2-4 finishes. Belgian Stefan Everts (Suz) earned the Prince of Bercy title for the 125cc class.

A couple of weeks ago we reported that the Syracuse Mile would not be run next year and that ticket refunds for the September 9 rain-out were being made. What we failed to tell you is that the deadline on ticket refunds is December 15. Send tickets to: Syracuse Gold Cup Mile Motorcycle Race, P.O. Box 453, Syracuse, NY 13209.

American Honda has announced a price increase on two 1991 motorcycles. In a bulletin sent to its dealers on November 14, Honda said, "Since the announcement of the 1991 prices, there have been serious economic changes which will effect our pricing. As you may know, during the first half of this year, the exchange rate averaged Y151=$1.00. In recent months, this rate has plunged to as low as Y125=$1.00, a 12% cost increase. This increase not only affects our products from Japan, but also our U.S. manufactured products to the extent of their Japanese purchase content. After serious consideration of the competitive market situation of our entire product line, we find it necessary to increase prices on four models (two motorcycles and two ATVs), effective December 1, 1990." The 1991 VFR750FM/LM suggested retail price has been increased by $200, from $6998 to $7198; and the CBR600F2M/LM by $300, from $4998 to $5298. The four-wheel TRX300FWM and TRX300M along with the "New Hampshire" versions of both ATVs received $50 increases. Honda also said, "At this time, we expect to be able to retain convention announced prices on the balance of our 1991 model lineup and restrict price increases to these carefully selected models only."

With all the deserved ballyhoo given to champions of the many disciplines of our favorite sport, one racer has been more or less overlooked — Brian Tillson, the Junior class National Champion dirt tracker. The final round of the AMA National Championship Junior Dirt Track Series went down the drain when the September 9 Syracuse Mile was rained out. Tillson, who was on top of the point standings following the previous round — the Labor Day weekend Springfield Mile, didn't get the opportunity to shake the champagne and spray the crowd to celebrate his title. And with all the attention we gave to the Camel Pro Series title chase, we failed to give credit to New Englander Tillson. Belated congrats, champ!

The final National Championship Junior Dirt Track Series point standings show the Harris Racing/Bell/Vanson Leathers/Edmonds Racing/Ron Wood-sponsored Tillson finishing on top with 133 points, followed by Steve Rasmussen (115) and Jason Fletcher (104). A complete breakdown of both the Camel Pro Series and the Junior National Series will appear in next week's big end-of-the-year Cycle News.

The American Road Racing Association (ARRA) will culminate its 1990 season with the running of the 12th and final round of the Del Amo/Miller High Life Formula One Grand Prix at southern California's Willow Springs International Raceway, December 16. The penultimate round, run last month, saw AMA National Championship Superbike Road Race Series competitor Thomas Stevens duel with and out-run the 1990 ARRA Formula One champ Chuck Graves, and young Kenny Roberts Jr., son of former World Champion Kenny Roberts, make his Formula One debut.

Purses for most of the 18 rounds of the 1991 Camel Supercross Series have increased significantly. Both the March 9 Daytona Supercross and the January 26 Anaheim Supercross will put $60,000 up for grabs, the April 13-14 Pontiac Supercross doubleheader offers a combined purse of $70,000, and a purse of $45,000 will be posted for each of the other rounds. As reported earlier, Camel has increased its sponsorship of the 250cc class from $125,000 this year to a record $200,000 for 1991. The series winner will receive $100,000.

A rumor floated around the Lone Star State last week that had Camel Pro Series runner-up Chris Carr's mechanic Kenny Tolbert undergoing knee surgery after a boating accident in Texas. According to Carr, "Kenny has a knee that has popped out a few times and he plans to have it looked at, but he has not been cut into." Along with Camel Pro Series champ Scott Parker, Jay Springsteen, Kevin Atherton, David Durelle, Speedy Kell, Steve Aseltine and Camel Pro Series Rookie of the Year Mike Hale, Carr departed for Italy on December 1 to take part in three short track races in Bologna.

Road racer Jamie James inked a contract with Vance & Hines Yamaha on November 28 to contest the 1991 AMA Superbike National Championship and AMA/CCS Supersport Series on the team's factory-backed Yamahas. James will team with Florida's Thomas Stevens on FZR750RRs in the Superbike class and will also ride an FZR600 along with Larry Schwarzbach in the 600cc Supersport Series. "We're thrilled to death to have Jamie," team owner Terry Vance said on November 28. Vance also said he'd also spoken to 1990 European Superbike Champion Richard Arnaiz regarding the second V&H ride, but opted for James based on his past experience in the 600cc Supersport class.

Regarding an item that appeared in this section last week, four-time World Champion Eddie Lawson says Chris Economaki was "irresponsible" for reporting in National Speed Sport News that he was going to test drive a TWR Jaguar and possibly switch to car racing. "I told him (Economaki) that the TWR people had invited me to watch a test session and that if there was time they might let me drive it. I have no intention of going car racing."

Freddie Spencer was scheduled to test a 1991 250cc Aprilia in Jerez, Spain, last week. When Aprilia team manager Carlo Pernat went to the airport to greet Spencer on November 28, however, the three-time World Champion was a no-show.

Power-Mist Racing Products, manufacturer of Power-Mist Racing Fuels, has posted nearly $20,000 in contingency prizes for the AMA National Championship MX Series and the Camel Supercross Series. In addition, Power-Mist support vehicles will be at all National MX and Camel Supercross events to make their fuel and lubricants available to all racers.

The Mike Kidd-promoted 1991 Arenacross Series gets underway in Guthrie, Oklahoma's Lazy E Arena, January 4-6. Subsequent rounds will take place in the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa, Texas, January 11-13; San Francisco's Cow Palace, February 8-10; County Coliseum in El Paso, Texas, February 15-17; and the Denver Coliseum in Denver, Colorado, March 1-3. At all rounds, pro racing will take place Friday and Saturday night with amateur competition being staged Sunday afteroon. The pro purse at each round is $15,000. All tracks will be constructed by Blake Hamilton Track Designs, the folks who were in charge of track construction and preparation for the U.S. 500cc MX GP at Glen Helen this past August.

Baja Promotions has announced its most ambitious south of the border "down Mexico way" racing schedule to date. Beginning its fourth season will be the Golden Crown of Baja Series which gets underway with the running of the February 8-10 250-mile Gran Carrera de San Felipe. Four other rounds follow the opener. Also entering its fourth season is the Gran Prixs de Baja Series and the first of five rounds will take place on February 23 with the running of the Mexicali Gran Prix. A new series, the Short-Course United Drivers Series (SUDS) kicks off with the March 9-10 Tecate Beer Good Life race at the Santa Veronica Off-Road Park & Raceway near Tecate, Baja California, Mexico. SUDS is part of an eight-race series, with four rounds of the Miller High Life Short-Course Series at southern California's Glen Helen OHV Park also used in determining the combined series champions who will split up a $10,000 point fund.

John Taylor, organizer of the December 9 Brad Lackey Christmas Grand Prix in Carlsbad, California, says many people are confused about the Bridgestone Team Race of Champions. The team race, in which two-rider teams will have to exchange wrist bands every lap, will take place following the running of all regular classes. Taylor also says he's lined up two four-wheel drive water trucks to keep dust to a minimum, and that entries have been received from multi-time MX National champ Broc Glover and newly-signed Honda riders Jeremy McGrath and Ryan Hughes.

The 21st Annual Florida Winter-Am MX Series will get underway at Gatorback Cycle Park in Gainesville, December 28-30, and continue at different venues on three of the next four weekends before returning to Gatorback for the final round, February 2-3. January 12-13 is the open weekend due to the running of the Orlando round of the Camel Supercross Series on January 12. Due to large turnouts at the opening round the past two years, racing will be conducted on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the December 28-30 Gatorback meet. Subsequent rounds will host racing on Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call SuperSports at 813/822-8929.

Defending Florida Winter-Am 125cc pro champ Chris Coleman and defending 250 and 500cc pro champ John Dowd should have their hands full with the likes of Damon Bradshaw, Larry Ward, Mike LaRocco, Jeromy Buehl, Brian Swink and Ryan Hughes set to compete in the series.

Kylie Burkholder, the daughter of professional dirt track racer Steve Burkholder and his wife Jo, succumbed to an illness she's been battling since birth on Thanksgiving Day. Expressions of condolences can be sent to the Burkholders at 146-A W. Fulton St., Ephrata, PA 17522.

Benefit raffles for Kylie Burkholder were held at the last two rounds of the Timonium (Maryland) Indoor Short Track Series and $600 was raised. Assisting in the raffle were the Baltimore County Trail Riders Association, White's H-D, Penn State Cycles, Schaeffer's H-D, B&B Cycles, Cycle Barn, Cycle Connection, M&S Cycle, JR's Kawasaki, York Honda/Yamaha/Suzuki, Bromley's Cycle, Zechman's Cycle, Don's Kawasaki, Lancaster H-D, Rick Reihold and Doug Erney. Raffle winners Don Ruth and Karen Thomas should call P.J. Jackson at 800/523-8483, Ext. 213, and provide him with an address to where he can ship your prizes.

National Trials Champion Ryan Young has reached an agreement with the Tryals Shop, the Land O'Lakes, Florida-based U.S. distributor of Aprilia trials bikes, to rejoin the Aprilia team after a year with Beta. Young will pilot the new Aprilia 300 Climber in the 10 National Championship Observed Trials Series rounds scheduled for 1991. Joining Young on the Aprilia team will be Geoff Aaron and Todd Roper.

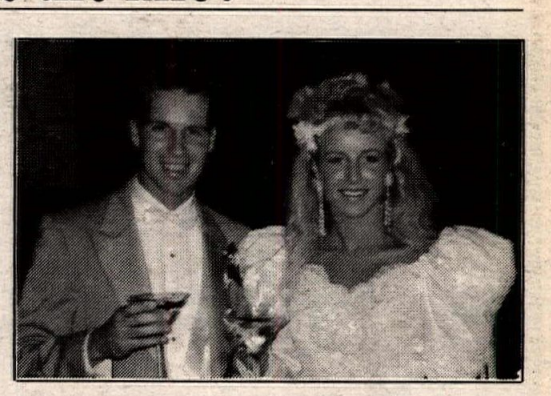
Rick Johnson ties the knot



Five-time National Motocross and two-time Supercross Champion Rick Johnson married Stephanie Hodgetts on December 1 in Point Loma, California. Over 500 people attended the celebration, including former National MX champions Broc Glover and David Bailey, five-time MX World Champion Roger DeCoster, former World Champion road racer Kel Carruthers, and auto racing legend Dan Gurney.

Johnson, 26, returned to his San Diego, California, home from Holland a few days prior to his wedding after winning his last race as a bachelor, the Dutch round of the Masters of Motocross Series.

Three-time Grand National Champion Jay Springsteen and Bartels Harley-Davidson will continue their relationship in the 1991 Camel Pro Series. Springsteen, riding a Bartels-sponsored XR750 tuned by John Powell, finished fourth in the 1990 Camel Pro Series, his best finish in the final point standings since 1985. In road racing, Springsteen will continue riding for Del Amo of California. The type of motorcycle Springsteen will campaign on asphalt has yet to be decided. Del Amo is a Yamaha, Suzuki, Kawasaki and Ducati dealership.

Reports from Europe indicate that 500cc MX World Champions Eric Geboers and Georges Jobe are poised to form a two-man team to contest the 1991 500cc World Championship MX Series on 1990 factory Hondas. Geboers, who was unable to put together a package to manage a private team on factory Hondas, admitted at the Paris Supercross that he has been negotiating with his long-time adversary, who has found financial support, but that nothing was certain. Although Geboers had said that he would retire and compete in selected GPs next year, it is rumored that he is planning a schedule which includes eight of the 12 500cc GPs. Should he be in contention for a sixth World title it's difficult to imagine him not contesting the entire series.

The "farewell season" for Eric Geboers ended with a trip to the hospital when he crashed and broke his collarbone in the first night of competition in Paris. Just moments before his crash a cat had run across the track and Mike Kiedrowski just avoided a potentially dangerous incident. It is unknown if the cat was black.

Texan Doug Polen headlines a list of top road racers that will venture south to Mexico City, Mexico, to participate in an international superbike event on December 9. Polen, who won the race last year on a Yoshimura Suzuki, will compete on a Fast By Ferracci Ducati only days after completing his first ride on the bike during Dunlop tire tests at Daytona on December 6-7. Polen will match his talents against the likes of newly-crowned World Superbike Champion Raymond Roche, FIM endurance champ Alex Viera, Tom Kipp, Dale Quarterley, and a host of others.

SCORE/ADRA held its annual year-end awards banquet at the Gold Coast Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada, December 1. Roger Hurd was honored as the champion in Class 20 (125cc); Joey Lane, Class 21 (250cc); Larry Roeseler, Class 22 (500cc); Kenny Parry, Class 30 (Over 30 years of age); Ron Gray, Class 40 (Over 40); and Al Guzman, Class 50 (Over 50).

Doug "The Wheelie King" Domokos will be performing at the December 7-9 Anaheim International Motorcycle Show at the Anaheim Convention Center in southern California. In addition to the "unicycle" stunts of Domokos, attendees can watch artist James Crespinel create a larger-than-life painting of a famous racer and see Yamaha's "bike of the future," the RADD Prototype.

MARRIED: Cycle News contributor Davey Coombs, to Laura White, in Pennsylvania, November 24.

ENGAGED: Former New England Enduro and Hare Scrambles Champion and former ISDE rider Alan Wickstrand, to longtime girlfriend Traci Fitzpatrick, in Redondo Beach, California.

VOICES Letters to the editor

Cowan update

This past summer I took up a collection and organized a raffle to raise funds for Gary Cowan, who suffered paralysis after a horrific accident while leading the 250cc race at Daytona last March. Because of a lot of people's generosity, I was able to give Gary a check for $6300, with money still coming into the bank account here in New York.

I would like to thank everybody who contributed in one way or another and say thanks to Steve Hegg, Roger Lyle, MARRC and Eamon Roche, who also raised money.

I'd also like to thank a bunch of people who were a great help in organizing the raffle: Janet Philips of Lockhart, Randy Warren of Travel-Craft, George Tenekes, Rocco Gargano, John Ulrich, Chuck Aksland, Bruce Berlinger, Richard Chambers,Don Hutchinson, Roger Edmondson, Jack Smith, John Flory, Mike Velasco, Kevin Erion, Glen Billings, J.W. and Marcus of Del Amo Motors, and your newspaper.

And I'd also like to thank the following companies and people who donated products for the raffle: Yamaha Motor Corp., Fieldsheer Leathers, TravelCraft, Vance & Hines, Vanson Leathers, Syed Leathers, Kenny Roberts, Dunlop, Sport Cycle Products, Shoei Helmets, Marlboro Racing, Tucker-Rocky Distributing, Connecticut Cycle Works, Sport Cycle Centre, Lockhart, Two Brothers Racing, Motorace, Motul USA, O'Neal USA, Yoshimura East, Feredo, American Roadracing, Sloth Design, Supersport Screen Printing, Dave Singleton, Street and Competition, Team Suzuki Endurance, D&D Exhausts, Pappy's Pizza of Loudon, Bruce Berlinger and Cycle News.

Gary is now living in an apartment in Northern Ireland. He is not working yet and has no plans for the future. Due to family problems, Gary broke off his engagement with his fiancee Hazel as he saw it as the only option to some of his many problems. He lives alone, has few friends and really no family, so I'm sure he'd appreciate hearing from people again.

Once again, I'd like to thank everybody for their generosity.

Daytona revisited

For most of the season Northstar's GTU Endurance Team has been sparingly and improperly represented in your race coverage, most recently in your report from the final round at Daytona. Understanding that endurance races are difficult to follow, I would like to correct a few errors in your race coverage.

First, Mike Moores does not ride for Toomer, and second, Moores started the race not Scott Ruehle. Finally, it was not Moores who crashed on lap 50, it was Ruehle.

David Proell
Parts Manager
Bee Line Marine, Inc.
St. Cloud, MN

P.S. In response to Mr. Leslie's comments about Northstar's lack of skill, I think racing two-thirds of the event with no second gear should be taken into consideration.

Round and round

The article "You might ask, why?" by Alan Cathcart should have been called "The Megola adventure." It was a lot of fun just reading it. I wish I was there to see it.

Star search

I've been reading your newspaper for years and I have never come across any addresses for the stars. The ones I'm mostly interested in are Wayne Rainey, Eddie Lawson and Rob Muzzy. Do they have fan clubs or can you provide mailing addresses for them?

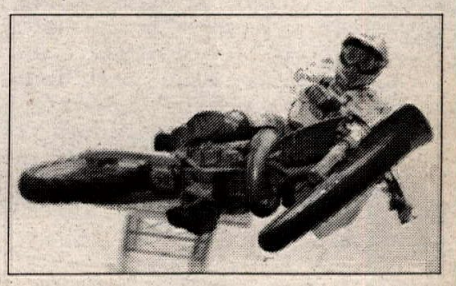
Larry Ward



Jeff Matiasevich

Oops!

I just thought I'd let you guys know that that's not Jeff Matiasevich on the cover of your December 5 issue. It's really no big deal, but in case you were wondering, it's Larry Ward.

It sure is tough to tell the difference between a Suzuki and a Kawasaki from that angle.

Greg Fox
Fox Racing USA
Campbell, CA

It wasn't tough for everyone, Greg. Before you wrote us, several readers called and correctly identified the rider as being Suzuki's Larry Ward. We were feeling down in the dumps about the error until we called Suzuki's Pat Alexander. We asked him if he'd seen the front page and after he said he had, we told him we had erred in identifying the rider as being Kawasaki's Jeff Matiasevich and asked him if he knew who the rider was. Pat replied, "I don't know, but it's not one of our guys." Whatever, we'd better stick to photos that show a number plate . . . Editor.

MOTORCYCLE OLYMPICS AMA Winter National Olympics

In his last race as an amateur, Ryan Hughes (37) leads Hayden Richards (248) and Kevin Walker (197) in the 125cc Expert class. Hughes won the Silver Tire Award.

Jeff Dement won every race that he competed in and took home the WorldSports' Bronze Bike Award. He was the 85cc (14-15) Expert class champ.

Dement, Lusk and Hughes lead the rush at Gatorback Park

By Mike and Anne Adair

GAINESVILLE, FL, NOV. 19-24

Jeff Dement, Ezra Lusk and Ryan Hughes garnered the highest individual honors in six days of intense competition to climax the 19th Annual AMA Winter National Olympics.

The event drew 2780 class entries representing riders from 36 states and Canada. Riders competed in TT, Stadium MX, Motocross and Grand Prix events to earn the 15 class championships up for grabs in the AMA-sanctioned, WorldSports-promoted event.

Suzuki-backed Dement and Kawasaki-supported Ricky Carmichael deadlocked for WorldSports' Bronze Bike Award. Both riders carded perfect records after battling in six days of competition without a loss, but Dement won the tiebreaker based on higher rider participation in his classes.

Dement said, "I was worried in the Grand Prix. First my foot missed the kickstarter so I got off late. Then as I was trying to pass guys and catch up I ran into a tree. Finally I calmed down and passed Matt Maximoff to preserve my record for the week."

The Scott USA Golden Goggle Award went to Ezra Lusk, who, after switching from minis to 125cc bikes only two weeks before, won championships riding in both the 12-15 year-old 125 and 125cc B classes. The Suzuki/Malcolm Smith/PJ1/Scott/Bell/Dunlop/CTi/S&D-sponsored Lusk said, "The 125cc B title was close. I had to beat Chris Brown in the Grand Prix. When Timmy Ferry pushed me for the lead, I let him go and just made sure that I got a good, safe second. It worked out fine."

Californian Ryan Hughes clinched both 125cc A and 250cc A classes riding a Pro Circuit/JT/Dunlop/CTi/VP Fuel/Power Bar/Team Green Kawasaki to earn the first Dunlop Silver Tire Award. Dunlop's Frank Stacy said, "We appareciate our rider support and wanted to put something back into amateur racing with this award."

Hughes said, "I came a long way to compete here this year, but this is the most fun that I have ever had in racing. It's a perfect end to my amateur career. I turn pro next month."

Other champions were Johnny Marley, Robbie Horton, Ricky Carmichael, Greg Rand, Rich Hutchins, Bart Lucas, Newt Swantz, Todd Rion, Ryan Huffman and Christian Smith.

Ricky Carmichael (67) was unstoppable, collecting the championship in the 85cc (7-11) division. Carmichael topped the TT, SX, MX and GP competition.

$175,000 in contingencies from Honda, Yamaha, Kawasaki and Suzuki, and a $8700 Pro-Am purse. Event sponsors Dunlop Tires, Scott USA, Gear Racewear, Powermist Racing Products, Barrs Competition, Vitalwear, Boyesen Engineering, Honda-Suzuki Marine, Wiseco, PJ1, Moto Video, Renthal, TX10, Tsubaki Chain, Pro Action Suspension and Chariot Trailers awarded cases of merchandise and hundreds of certificates to the 1400 trophy winners.

Factory technical support trucks manned by Kawasaki's Eric Poston and Jeff Chambers and Suzuki's Jim Danforth helped hundreds of riders keep it on the track for the week's competition. Performance specialists Bobby Barrs, Woody Kyle, George Quay and Dean Dickinson were also on hand to share their knowledge as well.

Team Green Kawasaki's assistant manager Jose Gonzales explained, "We want to see everyone have fun here at the Olympics. All who attend and ride this unique event are winners."

Suzuki's Jim Danforth commented, "We have only been here for two years. This week is really something. The kids and their dads do a great job on the motorcycles and we are glad to be here to help them out."

WorldSports' Jerry West said, "We have made a lot of changes in this year's program to make the event better and more fun. We extended it to six days to insure more track time and less schedule pressure. More non-racing family events were planned, including bingo, radio-controlled car racing, volleyball, basketball, softball, horseshoes and even a chili and desert cookoff."

The Thanksgiving Feast has become an honored tradition at the Olympics. This year 30 turkeys, eight hams and all the trimmimgs stretched for over 100 feet. Tip Tipton, assisted by Bevo Forti, George Quay and Jerry West, roasted and carved the birds. The highlight of the Thanksgiving festivities was a "meet the riders/celebrities" session moderated by Gear Racewear's John Ayers.

Warm, sunny Florida days and cool evenings prevailed through all six days and set a perfect climate for racing.

TT

The special TT and Stadium MX tracks have a new look this year, with their own start gate along the back pit fence. Trackman Dave Brown kept the limestone and clay circuit in top shape throughout the competition.

Johnny Marley's Yamaha Y-Zinger topped the Pee Wee final ahead of Tyson Hadsell, Jeff Gibson and Scott Perry, and it would be Marley who was undefeated through the final event. The PJ1/Hi-Point/Scott/Tsubaki/Shoei-backed rider said, "This is my first TT. It was fun."

Action in the 65cc (7-11) class featured a closely-matched quartet of Mark Burkhart, Robbie Horton, Josh Scott and Kenny Jones. Horton topped the Stock class and Burkhart took the Modified class honors.

Ricky Carmichael climbed aboard his Team Green/Barrs/PJ1/MX Fox/Dunlop Renthal-backed Kawasaki and began a win streak in the 85cc (7-11) class that had many comparing the tiny redhead with Jeff Ward in his youth.

In the 85cc (12-13) class, Greg Rand, Kevin Windham, Robbie Reynard and Robbie Skaggs battled fiercely through all four events, with Rand and Reynard sharing the TT wins.

The 85cc (14-15) class belonged to Jeff Dement as the Suzuki/T&D/JT/Answer/Maxima/Inovations-backed rider romped easily to wins in all four events. R&D's Dean Dickenson elaborated, "Jeff rides his heart out every time. I owe it to him to be here to support him."

In the 125cc Stock Expert final, Jason Young's DG/Dunlop/Scott/AXO/Dutchs RV Honda held Kevin Walker, Scott Sheak and Ryan Hughes at bay for the first win. Young said, "I got taken down in my heat and had to qualify in the consi."

Hughes made a benefit of the 125cc Expert Modified class and then the 250cc Expert Stock final, his Chad Watts' tuned Kawasaki leading all the way. Kevin Walker took his turn in the 250cc Modified final, passing Jay Mann with a lap to go for the win.

Stadium MX

The more sophisticated Stadium Motocross circuit tested riders' skills with gatorbacks, tabletops, double and triple jumps interconnected with short straights and a sampler of tight turns.

Johnny Marley maintained his Pee Wee win streak, but said, "I was third at the start and Jeff Gibson made me work for the win. I got him on a jump."

Mark Burkhart had his day in the

MOTORCYCLE OLYMPICS AMA Winter National Olympics

Before the start of the GP races, a special tribute was paid to the U.S. troops currently stationed in the Mideast.

Greg Rand (77) and another rider tangle handlebars in the 85cc (12-13) class. Rand managed to stay upright to wrap up the class championship.

Winner Robbie Horton (38), Mark Burkhardt (4) and Nicholas Wey (6N) battle for the lead in the 65cc (7-11) class. Horton locked up the 65cc class championship.

sun with a sweep in the 65cc (7-11) finals. The Ohio Motor Sports/M&D Racing-backed rider said, "I had the lead in the Stock final when the sand pit swallowed me up. I had to pass Nicholas Wey back to win it."

Robbie Horton took off his helmet and was sick on the gate, but he got back on his bike and rode gamely for third and 13th place finishes.

Action in the 85cc (12-13) class featured Kevin Windham joining Greg Rand for a win. Kawasaki/Maxima/Scott/Dunlop/Bell/Renthal-sponsored Windham said, "I was lucky in the stock final. Some guy cut across and took out half of the field. I was lucky to avoid the crash and hold the lead."

The 125 and 250cc Expert finals were again a Ryan Hughes show, despite hard riding by Tim Hodes, Jason Edwards, Jim Neese and Anthony Paggio. Hughes said, "I had to qualify for the 125cc Expert final in the consi after I blew out a berm and got wrapped in the banners (in the heat race)."

Plus 25 and 30 class winner Alan Andreu said, "There was a lot of banging out there for a Senior class. Some guy got caught on me in the +30 start and I dragged him along for a while."

In 125cc B Modified class competition, Brad Lockhart edged Chris Ridgeway for the win. Suzuki Country/JT/Renthal-endorsed Ridgeway said, "I came here all the way from California because I love this event. People are so friendly and the different tracks are great."

The 250cc B point race heated up with former Golden Goggle winner Josh Steel giving front-runner Ryan Huffman a hard-earned split. Steel's Henry Gref-wrenched, Barrs/Powermist/Scott/Johns Cycle Kawasaki topped the Stock final. The Ohio rider said, "Clifford Adoptante went down in a turn. Brandon Smith took out some banners. I stayed inside and it worked for a win."

TT winner and eventual 500cc Novice Champion Christian Smith, who is sponsored by Sliders Cafe/Seminole Honda and MCC (Mom's credit card) commented, "I got stuck in the gate and was dead last. I caught all but that guy on the KTM (Jay Rassa). He was fast."

In 250cc C combat, Todd Rion won the Modified class which led to a subsequent class championship. Pro Action Suspension/Honda Motormart-backed Rion said, "I didn't expect to do well in the Stadium event."

Motocross

Motocross is always the most anticipated specialty at the Winter Olympics. Gatorback's National-caliber circuit is fast and challenging. Several changes were made this year, the most notable being a set of whoops and then doubles in the sweeping turn before the announcer's tower.

In the 65cc (7-11) race, Robbie Horton erased Kenny Jones' holeshot, then swept all four motos to pull within one point of Mark Burkhart.

Ricky Carmichael added four motos to his perfect 85cc record ahead of Robbie Horton.

Robbie Reynard hooked up his MX Fox/PJ1/CT/Scott/Class Act-tuned Kawasaki and scored a sweep in the 85cc (12-13) motos to close within one point of leader Greg Rand. Kevin Windham, who dropped to third explained, "I missed a shift off the gate and then did a face plant. It just wasn't my day."

Jeff Dement had to come back to catch Kenny Yoho, Matt Maximof and Chris Brown to make it four more in the 85cc (14-15) group. Dement elaborated, "I was moving up from a fourth-place start, stuck my footpegs in a rut and literally passed a guy in midair without my bike! I'm sure glad the moto was long enough to find my bike and retake the win."

In a sensational 125cc (12-15) battle, Team Green/Dunlop/Pro Pad/Scott-backed Timmy Ferry upset Ezra Lusk and Chris Brown. Ferry, who was in Japan on the Yokahama Tire tour and missed the first two Olympic events, said, "Ezra, Chris and I were real close in the second Stock moto. I finally had the lead when Chris tried to jam inside me going down in the pit. I stayed on the bike for the win, but Ezra got by Chris for second."

It was shakeup time in the Expert divisions. Favored Ryan Hughes stuffed in on the first turn in both 125cc classes and Billy Silverole and David Beckington took the overall wins. Team Green Kawasaki's Silverole said after winning the Stock class, "I had a bruised hip, arm and was dizzy from a fall yesterday. I'm glad that Doc Medsker was here to help me get over it all."

TUF Racing/Scott/S&D Helmets-supported Beckington said, "I was top 10 at the start, finally caught Anthony Paggio for the lead and then had a flat tire. I was lucky to just hang on for the win."

Hughes revenged his earlier demise with an awesome display of riding to top Kevin Walker in the 250cc Stock and Modified Expert classes. He explained, "That was no fun being sponged up twice in the 125cc motos."

An upset occurred in 125cc B action as Massachusetts native Jason Fowler topped Ezra Lusk in both divisions. Fowler said, "Ezra pushed me at the end, but I held the lead."

In the 250cc B confrontation, Chris Ridgeway and Brandon Smith each scored an overall class win. Ridgeway said, "I love this track. It is fast, rough and real dirt, not concrete."

That evening was highlighted by the Powermist Hi-Octane Chili Cookoff. After Tip Tipton scored the win in his sixth try, judge Bevo Forti commented, "If Tip didn't win this time, we were afraid that he wouldn't cook the turkeys next year."

Grand Prix

Riders formed long ranks in the pasture near the extrance gate for a 30 or 45-minute chase that would lead them backwards around the MX course, into the woods and back into the stadium MX track before ending at the scoring barrels.

The Pee Wee Championship was resolved using the short track as the field of honor. Tyson Hadsell led favorites Jeff Gibson and Johnny Marley flag to flag for the win.

"I never looked behind me," Hadsell said.

In the 7-11 year-old finals, Robbie Horton ran down Mark Burkhart and held on for the 65cc title, then led Ricky Carmichael before taking second in the 85cc class. Carmichael said, "I kicked at the starter, missed and the arm folded in. I was last off the gate and had to catch those guys to keep my slate clean."

Greg Rand explained, after winning the 85cc (12-13) crown, "I walked the entire track with Ezra Lusk, then my Mike McAndrews-tuned suspension made it easy."

The 85cc (14-15) champ, Jeff Dement, hit a tree, and had a scare before catching Mat Maximoff to end with a perfect record. Dement said, "I am glad to finally win the Bronze Bike Award. I lost a tie to Damon Bradshaw in 1986."

Rosinni Racing's Ty Wallace led most of the 125cc Expert charge, but Timmy Ferry claimed victory at the end. Ryan Hughes clinched the title with a second-place finish. Hughes and the Team Green guys gambled on one tank of gas for the longer 45-minute 250cc moto and won with a few ounces to spare.

Ryan Huffman, the 250cc B Champion, came all the way from Oregon for the Olympics. The Barrs/Bell/AXO/PJ1/Scott/Roseburg Honda-sponsored rider said, "I beat up some trees today and got tired after riding 30 minutes, but this was a great all-around event. I'll be back next year."

Senior Champion Bart Lucas added, "It's cold and snowy back in New York. I'm glad to be down here."

In closing ceremonies Jerry West praised referee Russ Collar, head clerk Jody Turner and the 50-strong WorldSports' staffers for a job well done. West then presented the Ricky Joseph Sportsmanship award to Kevin Walker. Richard and Ellie Joseph participated in the presentation of a $200 bond and trophy in their late son's honor. CN

HARE & HOUND Battle-to-Victory

KTM's Danny Hamel scored the overall win in the Battle-to-Victory, finishing almost 10 minutes ahead of his nearest rival, Dan Richardson.

Honda-mounted Dan Richardson, a former ISDE rider, finished second overall and first in the 250cc class. The Battle-to-Victory race attracted more than 400 riders.

LUCERNE VALLEY, CA, NOV. 24

KTM's Danny Hamel dusted the competition at the Battle-to-Victory '90, the replacement race for this year's cancelled Barstow-to-Vegas Hare & Hound.

The 18-year-old from Boulder City, Nevada, completed the grueling 109-mile race through Lucerne Valley in just under three hours to take the overall honors nearly 10 minutes ahead of his nearest rival.

"It feels good to win this race because B-to-V is the granddaddy of all desert races," said Hamel. "Barstow-to-Vegas is a really important event and we need to do something to bring the real race back again."

Second overall went to Honda privateer Dan Richardson, with Robert Laughlin, John Rudder and Vet hotshot Paul Ostbo rounding out the top five.

Battle-to-Victory was organized by District 37's Sports Committee after the BLM closed the traditional B-to-V course due to environmental concerns.

The three-loop alternative course drew just over 400 riders, far fewer than the 1200 entries the Thanksgiving weekend event usually draws.

"We have to face facts. This isn't the normal B-to-V," said Dave Kersting of the organizing committee. "There are fewer entries this year and we didn't draw as many out-of-staters as we usually do, but at least it gives everybody something to do on a weekend."

Proceeds from the event's $40 pre-entry/$50 post-entry fee will go to District 37's conservation and legislative efforts to help bring Barstow-to-Vegas back in 1991.

Battle-to-Victory drew riders from as far away as Oregon and Texas, but it was not the star-studded affair that B-to-V watchers have come to expect. Defending champ Dan Smith was sidelined by prerunning injuries from the Baja 1000, and other top contenders like Larry Roeseler and Bruce Ogilvie were not in the starting lineup.

A new B-to-V Kids class drew 16 entries and set a record for the youngest rider when two four-year-olds took their places for the row five start. The Kids headed up the bomb run and completed a 10-mile section of loop one.

The banner dropped for the Amateur/Expert start just after eight a.m. and the racers powered north up the valley towards the start of the first 35-mile loop.

Kawasaki's Ted Hunnicutt was out in front all the way in the drag race to the bomb with ATK's Chris Crandall hard on the gas in second and Hamel's 540 DXC KTM powering through in third.

"The key to the whole thing was picking a good line and I knew I had the fastest one there," said Hunnicutt. "I got off the line really fast and after that it was easy."

Early-morning shadows made the terrain hard to read and the dust hung on the still morning air."

"They turned us and ran us straight into the sun," said Kawasaki KX125 pilot Roger Hurd. "It was really dusty off the start and we were going uphill right into the sun. You couldn't see a thing."

A lapse in concentration when the banner dropped put KTM's Jimmy Lewis in the thick of the dust.

"I forgot to put the bike in gear or it hopped out or something, but it wasn't a very good start," said Lewis. "I was pretty far back so it was really dusty and that held me up for a while."

Hamel wasted no time breaking out of Crandall's dust. He dodged past the Open class contender in a rocky section just five miles from the start and settled into stride in second.

"I could see Hunnicutt all the way," said Hamel. "I was just hanging back a bit out of his dust."

The front-runners made short work of the first 35 miles and headed into pit row just before 9 a.m. Hunnicutt was a minute ahead of Hamel, with another two minutes back to Crandall in third, and half a minute back to Paul Ostbo in fourth.

Richardson's CR500 dashed into pit row in fifth, with Laughlin, CR250 pilot Jeff Case, Rudder and Vet 250cc contender Kenny Parry chasing hard all the way.

The leader of the 125cc pack, Jeff Kawell, headed into loop two in 10th overall, but the 125cc class lead turned over to Lewis when Kawell had to double back to the Kawasaki pit to change a front flat.

A promising early run by ATK's Greg Zitterkopf bit the dust when he went over the bars and reportedly broke his hand near the end of loop one, and Kawasaki pilots Roger Hurd and Brett Howell threw in the towel soon after.

"I fell twice and then I got a flat and it just wasn't worth it," said Hurd.

"People are having a lot of trouble following the course. It could've done with a lot more ribbon and arrows," said Howell. "They should've stuck to the original plan and let us have a four-day weekend off."

Hunnicutt stretched his lead in the 39-mile dash around loop two.

"The race was going all my way," said Hunnicutt. "I could look back from the tops of the hills and see Hamel's dust way back in the distance. I had some good distance on him so I could ride my own race and just concentrate on finishing."

Dust and rocks started to spread the rest of the field out as they raced towards pit number two and many riders were taken by surprise when loop two merged with loop one for the final run into pit row.

"We didn't know the trails came together and all of a sudden we were with the first loop guys, passing people like crazy," said Ostbo, who was locked in a neck-in-neck battle for third with Richardson. "I recognized the loop and thought we'd gone the wrong way, so we rode maybe a mile back to the last check to see where we'd gone wrong. They said we were on the right course but that cost us some time."

The merging trails put Hunnicutt back in the dust and the race leader came to grief just one mile shy of pit row.

"I was in some Novice's dust and I hit something hard and fast," said the KX500 pilot. "I didn't have any warning at all and there was no way of saving it. I don't know what I hit and I couldn't get up to go back and look."

Hunnicutt landed in a bush with his bike on top of him.

"I've got tire marks all over me, I'm bruised pretty badly and I think I sprained my wrist," said Hunnicut, number one plate holder in the Open class for 1991. "I was really, really angry that it happened. Everything was going so well."

The crash put Hamel in the lead going into loop three and the KTM ace never looked back.

"The first two loops were mainly valleys and really, really fast stuff with lots of whoops, but the third loop was really bitchin," said Hamel. "It was really technical and really tough. I loved it."

While Hamel pushed to open up the lead, the competition was giving him an unexpected helping hand. Crandall charged into the final loop just four minutes behind Hamel in second, but a blown shock forced him to double back for repairs.

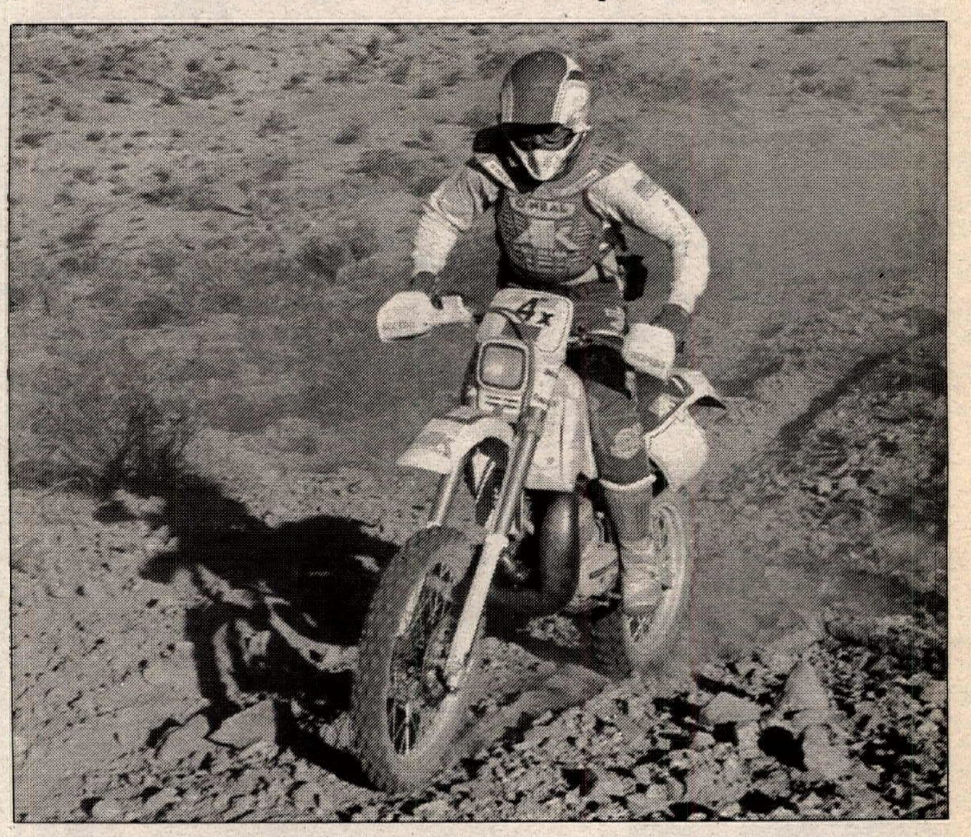
"We had to replace the shock and that cost us some time, then the shock we put on wasn't really right," said Crandall. "I had to work really hard."

Laughlin inherited second place nine minutes behind Hamel, with

Other than crashing once, Honda-mounted Robert Laughlin had a flawless ride, charging to third overall and second place in the 500cc class.

KTM's Jimmy Lewis continues to rule the California desert in the 125cc class, as he took another class win, this time over Jeff Kawell and James Summers.

ATK rider John Rudder finished just a few seconds ahead of Vet Open class winner Paul Ostbo for fourth overall and second place in the 250cc class.



Richardson leading the 250cc Experts half a minute back in third and ATK 250 pilot John Rudder half a minute behind in fourth.

Ostbo thundered through with a broken muffler core in fifth with a two minute lead over Vet challenger Kenny Parry, and Lewis was seven minutes ahead of the nearest 125cc competition in ninth.

"I thought it was a really good course," said Lewis. "There were some wide open sections, but it wasn't too bad. It wasn't wide open all the way."

Loop three headed south past Cougar Butte and ran back and forth through the Fry Mountains.

"We laid out the first two loops so anybody could do them. Beginners and Quads were supposed to have fun out there, but loop three is pretty tough," said Kersting. "There are a couple of neat downhills and an uphill coming back through Fry Mountain. It's pretty bad so there's an alternate on it."

Super Senior Art Moore had a few comments when he reached the uphill.

"I was swearing and cursing at Kersting going up that thing," Moore. "It was a stair-step hill. That thing was tough."

Despite the promises of tough terrain, Hamel completed the final 35-mile loop in 48 minutes flat. He sprayed gravel all the way up the final hill and took the checkered flag with a total elapsed time of two hours and 45 minutes.

"That was really fun and it feels great to win B-to-V," said the KTM/Answer/Maxima/F&L/Z Racing/Alumilite/Gaerne/Acerbis/Motorcycle Tire Center-backed racer. "This is only the second time I've raced it. Last year I had problems and it was awful, but things worked this time. I'm really happy. This is an important race to me."

Laughlin was pushing hard throughout the final loop and had second place in the bag when he came to the final hill.

"I was ahead of Richardson until I got to that hill and I went right over the bars," said Laughlin.

The last minute tumble put Richardson into second, nine and a half minutes behind Hamel, and Laughlin had to be content with third overall, 12 minutes behind the winner.

"I had a good race except for getting lost at the end of the second loop," said Richardson, who took the 250cc honors on his Simi Honda/Sinisalo/Race Tech/Acerbis/Mousse Racing/Krause Racing-backed Honda CR250. "Laughlin was behind me when Ostbo and I turned around because we thought we'd lost the course and I had to try to catch him after that."

The fast-paced terrain and a hole in the pipe did not make the chase easy.

"The course was fast — really fast," Richadson reported. "It would've been good on a 500, but I needed some more top end and this hole in the pipe has been giving me a really bad headache for about 25 miles."

Laughlin reported a clean race all the way to the final hill.

"It was pretty good. I never got off or anything until right at the end," said Laughlin.

A last minute sprint in the final valley put ATK's John Rudder into fourth overall and second 250, just seconds ahead of Ostbo, who scored a wire-to-wire victory in the Vet class.

"The dust was a real factor today because the course was so fast," said Ostbo. "It doesn't matter as much if it's tight and really rocky, but it made a difference today."

Ostbo attributed part of his success to aspirin. "I hurt my back prerunning for the Baja 1000 and my chiropractor told me I shouldn't ride today, but I took a lot of aspirin and it got me through," he explained.

A final loop charge made up some of the time Crandall had lost in the pits and gave the ATK pilot sixth in the overall lineup and third in the Open class.

Jeff Case slid home on Crandall's heels to claim seventh overall and Parry topped the Vet 250cc contenders in eighth.

"I'm really pleased that the District went ahead with an event," said Parry. "All things considered they did a great job laying out a course at the last minute. I'm really proud of them for doing it. I think it shows a lot of class."

Lewis took the 125cc class win in ninth overall, five minutes ahead of Kawell (11th overall), and Craig Hunter rounded out the top 10 on a Kawasaki KX250.

Ross Barnes topped the Senior Experts (27th overall) and Steve Thompson finished 33rd overall for the Senior 250cc win.

"I'm pooped," said Thompson. "A lot of people who don't ride very much are going to get a good workout today."

Rob Poznoff led the Amateur contenders home in 21st overall.

"My front tire needs a little air but I had a good ride. I led the whole thing," said the Kawasaki KX500 racer from Bakersfield.

The first Novice to cross the finish line was KTM pilot Gary Lacharite. CN

SUPERCROSS Masters of Motocross Series: Final round

Rick Johnson scored his second-straight victory at the Maastricht Congress Center Supercross, the final round of the Masters of Motocross Series.

Frenchman Jean-Michel Bayle scored an easy, start-to-finish, win on Saturday but could finish no higher than third on Sunday. He finished second in the series.

Despite not winning one race throughout the five-race Masters of Motocross Series, Jeff Stanton used consistency to wrap up the series title, and with it $20,000.

Johnson the winner, Stanton the master in Holland

By Alex Hodgkinson

MAASTRIGHT, HOLLAND, NOV. 24-25

For the second year in a row Rick Johnson came away the winner at the Maastricht Congress Center Supercross, while American Honda teammate Jeff Stanton used his strategy of consistently finishing near the front to wrap up the first Masters of Motocross title although he never won an event in the five-race series.

Following last year's win at Maastricht, Johnson went on to dominate other supercross events held in Europe, but this year he immediately flew back to the U.S. to get married.

Johnson finished second behind Bayle on the first day of the double-header, then topped Stanton and Bayle on day two to pick up the overall win. The victory in the final round of the five-event Masters of Motocross Series lifted Johnson to third in the final standings behind Bayle. For winning the title, Stanton earned $20,000.

Saturday

Europeans John Van den Berk and Bayle split the four heat race wins with Americans Damon Bradshaw and Larry Ward. The highlight of the heat races was a seesaw battle between Bradshaw and Stanton which was reminiscent of their fantastic struggle at the Charlotte, North Carolina, Supercross earlier this year. But to get to the final, they all had to qualify through one of two semi finals.

A second-corner fall by Bayle in the first semi also brought down Van den Berk, and within a couple of laps they were joined at the back of the field by Pedro Tragter and Greg Albertyn when they collided while disputing second place. This let 500cc World champ Eric Geboers build up an enormous lead, but he would eventually struggle to qualify.

Four laps from the end Stefan Everts closed in on his Belgian compatriot and forced his way into the lead, but the whole time Bayle was closing in on them both. Two laps later Bayle was challenging Geboers, and the World champ's efforts to resist only resulted in him colliding with a hay bale.

As Geboers remounted in fifth, Bayle set off after Everts. The Frenchman caught Everts, but the 17-year-old Suzuki rider refused to be rattled and held the inside line to cross the finish line first.

When the second semi started Johnson grabbed the holeshot with Stanton, Ward and Bradshaw tucked in behind. The four circulated for several laps like an express train, then Ward and Bradshaw collided and had to work their way back up. Stanton eventually forced a way past Johnson to take the win, leaving Pekka Vehkonen to split the four Americans.

Tragter looked certain to win the Last Chance Qualifier, but a simple fall at half distance gave the race to Dave Strijbos. Tragter still made the final via a competition in which the crowd's applause elected one rider to the main by virtue of his acrobatic skills over the main jump.

The main event was effectively over soon after the start. Bayle grabbed the holeshot and immediately settled into a rhythm while the rest of the pack sorted themselves out. Bayle could even afford the luxury of a fall at the halfway point without losing the lead, although it did allow Johnson to get close for a few laps.

A first-lap crash in front of the pack by Albertyn had also allowed Johnson to break clear of his pursuers, especially when Ward went down alone a few laps later while running third.

In the early traffic Everts had edged past Stanton, and the U.S. Camel Supercross Champion could find no way to get past the Belgian for most of the race. Three laps before the end, Stanton found his opening in the whoops, but his two American Honda teammates were long gone. Stanton's third place was enough to clinch the Masters title, for although Bayle, his closest pursuer in the points, won, nothing that could happen on the next day to keep Stanton out of a top 15 overall finish which was all he needed to clinch the title.

Bradshaw had started poorly and spent the entire race working his way through to fifth behind Everts, while Ward held off strong challenges from Vehkonen and Edwin Evertsen. Van den Berk had led them for a time before he fell, and Geboers was never in contention.

Sunday

Bayle had no difficulty winning the first heat on Sunday, and Ward was always just ahead of Stanton in heat two. Everts pushed Bradshaw all the way in heat three, while Albertyn defeated Johnson in the fourth heat.

The real action once again began in the semis. Jochen Jasinski led away in the first semi but was down to third when he crashed out. Bayle had taken command and went on to win with Johnson a clear second. Albertyn passed Van den Berk near the halfway point and held on to third at the finish. Evertsen grabbed the final transfer position behind Vehkonen after Tragter and another rider fell in the whoops.

Determined to score at least one win on his 18th birthday, Everts stormed to the front of semi two. Two laps later he coasted to the side of the track with carburetion problems and let Ward through for a clear win as Bradshaw and Stanton had to come through the pack.

Stanton had a mighty duel with Warren Edwards before both passed a tired Colin Dugmore near the end. Strijbos had crashed while running third at half distance and Geboers had crashed earlier when not in a strong position to qualify.

Everts rode calmly to win the Last Chance Qualifier, while Tragter once again made the main through the jumping contest.

Van den Berk lept to the front of the final as Vehkonen, Edwards and Dugmore went down in the first turn. Bradshaw joined them at the back when he fell alone two corners later.

While Van den Berk enjoyed his brief moment of glory, Johnson, Stanton and Ward disputed second as Bayle took no risks demoting Albertyn and Evertsen to set off in pursuit.

Ward's effort to split the two Hondas ahead of him ended when he crashed at the end of the whoops, but not before he had shot past Stanton. Ward's fall cost Stanton contact with second-place Johnson for a time.

By the time Johnson caught Van den Berk just before the halfway point, Stanton was back on his rear fender with Bayle close behind. The two Americans shot under Van den Berk in the same turn, while with Bayle, it took a couple of laps longer to demote the Dutchman, which cost him any chance of the win.

Bayle closed up to Stanton at one point, but could never get close enough to put his front wheel inside. At the same time, Johnson made better use of traffic to get away for the win.

After racing through from an 11th-place start, Everts just failed to get Van den Berk for fourth. Just a few seconds later was an almost identical scene as Edwards came even closer to nipping Evertsen for sixth. Bradshaw followed them home, never having been able to close in on those ahead of him, while the remainder of the field was lapped. CN

McKenna takes no prisoners at Police/ Firemen Nationals

By Tony Alessi

PERRIS, CA, NOV. 15-16

Department of Corrections-backed Eric McKenna took home lots of gold medals and no prisoners while burning the competition with a six-moto sweep of the 250cc Expert and Vet Expert classes during the Police and Firemen Nationals at Perris Raceway. The two-day event featured grand prix and motocross competition between police officers and firemen, with proceeds from the event going to the Allsa Ann Rush Burn Foundation.

"I used to race with him 10 years ago and he beat me then, really didn't expect to see him here today," said defending Police and Firemen champ Ron Watmore.

McKenna went on to win the Sportsmen Expert class during the Grand Prix on day one, "My arms pumped bad and Watmore was working me, but I was able to win," McKenna said.

"I was catching him near the end but my wrist is still a little sore from breaking it early in the year," Watmore said. Bobby Hubbard and Leonard Kilman battled for third with Hubbard getting the nod.

Pat Dale drove 19 hours fromm near Seattle, Washington, to top the Sportsman Intermediate class during the Grand Prix event. Dale mixed it up early with Steve Coster and Mark Davenport after a seventh-place start. Early race leader Rob Hall hung tough for three laps before dropping behind the trio of Coster, Dale and Davenport. Coster led for 10 laps before Dale moved by for good.

"This is by far my favorite race of the year, the track is the best anywhere and the weather is perfect plus I feel really great helping out the Rush Burn Foundation," Dale said.

McKenna motored away in the first Sportsman Expert moto during Friday's motocross race. Watmore stayed close but was unable to mount a charge.

"His lap times were close to mine early in the moto but he dropped off late in the moto," McKenna said.

The second moto was a repeat for McKenna while Watmore had a moto-long duel for second with Andy Guth. Watmore eventually prevailed and finished second while Guth dropped to third in front of Mark Duval.

Watmore lost yet another number one plate in the 125cc Sportsman Intermediate/Expert class at the hands of young Bobby Hubbard. Hubbard took advantage of Watmore's fall in the first moto to score the easy win over Ken Ratzloff and Watmore.

Watmore came back charging in the second moto and won by more than 30 seconds over Hubbard. "I knew I had it won, so I rode safe and smart," Hubbard said after picking up his first place gold medal.

All regular pro riders were invited to compete during Friday's MX event. Pete Murray led most of the first moto but landed on a fallen rider and crashed, giving the win to Willy Musgrave.

Murray led half of the second moto but Musgrave pulled next to Murray and executed a brilliant pass, then stayed out front to the finish.

"I dove inside and I knew where he was shutting off so I pinned it a second longer, got my front wheel inside and made the pass," Musgrave said while picking up first place cash, which he donated to the Allsa Ann Rush Burn Foundation!. CN

Doncaster dusts Ascot Long Track Speedway Championship

By Scott Daloisio

GARDENA, CA, NOV. 9

An era came to an end in southern California when England's Jeremy Doncaster won the International Long Track Championship on Ascot Park's half-mile as the four-lap final was the last motorcycle race ever staged on the world famous dirt track.

Each rider rode three heat races, with the top 12 moving on to a pair of semis. The top three from each semi advanced to the four-lap Championship.

At the start of the final Doncaster got a good gate and set the tempo into turn one. Down the back chute Rick Miller held second with Mike Faria third. Faria raced around Miller on lap two and chased down Doncaster. Coming off turn four the second time, Faria shoved his front tire into the lead.

Faria, with no more than a half-foot lead, and Doncaster charged down the front chute side-by-side. Heading into turn one Ronnie Correy, with a breathtaking move, went between them and took over first. Correy held a slim lead with Faria, trying to come around the outside, followed closely by Doncaster and Miller.

Correy was at the point when the white flag came out, but his back tire was chunking and his arms were growing weary. Off turn two on the last circuit, he bobbled. Doncaster screamed by on the inside for first. Correy gave it one last shot off the final bend, but it didn't work. The final motorcycle racing checkered flag at Ascot came out and Doncaster went past it first. Correy managed to stay in second chased by Faria, Miller, Peter Carr and Borivoj Hadek.

Surratt sizzles at Perris MX

By Tony Alessi

PERRIS, CA, NOV. 16

Honda-mounted Willy Surratt continued to dominate the pro ranks with a pair of back to back moto wins over Steve Lamson, Jimmy Gaddis and Rex Staten during GFI Super Saturday MX at Perris Raceway.

Surratt followed Staten early in the first moto, until he forced his way past and into a commanding lead. Staten rode smooth and alone in second for most of the first moto while Lamson worked to third after Gaddis crashed back to sixth. Joel Albrecht was sorting out his new Pro Circuit Yamaha and finished fourth in front of Joe Waddington.

The second moto was very similar to the first wiht Staten powering his big-bore Honda to the lead only to have Surratt pass him and sail away. Gaddis kept Lamson honest in third staying within a few seconds of Lamson the entire moto while Waddington was off the pace in fifth.

Steve Banning stomped the Vet Intermediate class with double moto wins. Steve Clark rode solo in second while Scott Wallenberg, Rudy Chavez and J.S. Hansen battled all moto for third.

George Kohler led most of the second moto but was put to the ground by Banning's Honda.

"He used to be an Ex-Pro, so he knows a lot of good moves," Kohler said, about Banning's over-zealous pass. Kohler remounted and safely finished second in front of Hansen. Steve Clark was running up front but was ejected after Hansen slammed into him. Pete Vetrano and Chavez rode strong to fourth and fifth, respectively.

Tim Olson scored the overall 125cc Novice win after very tight racing with Jerry Jetton. The SCR Suzuki of Jetton led most of the first moto, but a crash in the late stages of the race gave Olson an easy win.

Jetton came back stronger than ever in the second moto, but Olson closed on Jetton and tried to make a new line inside of the Suzuki rider that failed and spit Olson over the bars and to the ground. Olson remounted but Jetton was 10 seconds ahead and seemed invincible. Olson chipped away at Jetton's lead and finally saw his chance for victory after Jetton got stuck in a one-line berm behind a stalled rider. Olson swept wide and sprinted to the moto and overall win.

Bell, McKuhn manhandle Albany Supercross

By Clay Light

ALBANY, OR, NOV. 18

Mike Bell and Frank McKuhn took advantage of superb weather and track conditions at MXNW Winter Series racing at Albany Supercross. Bell won the 125cc Pro class by virtue of a second moto shoot-out, while McKuhn copped both Open Pro wins.

In the slightly muddy first Pro moto McKuhn, riding a KTM500 and 125 Suzuki rider Bell led the field. Local favorite Gary Beyer on a KTM 125, moved past McKuhn and set his sights on Bell, nabbing him two laps later, setting up an incredible battle. Things took a downturn for Bell, though, as the Portland rider crashed, putting Beyer into the lead to the finish ahead of Suzuki rider Don Bisceglia, McKuhn, the Open winner, Bell and Open Pro Ron Westlake, who rounded out the top five.

Bell got holeshot honors in the second moto while Beyer loomed in his shadow. This set up what would be the day's premiere battle as the duo rode wheel to wheel for the entire 20 minute moto. They put quite a bit of ground on third place rider Bisceglia, on a 250, and the rest of the field. Bell and Beyer were never more than 10 feet apart throughout the entire moto, finishing in that order, enabling Bell to take the overall Pro and 125cc win. Beyer took second overall followed by Bisceglia, McKuhn and Westlake.

"I felt really weak," said Beyer. "I felt like I was coming down with some sort of bug between motos and I was having trouble hanging on toward the end. He (Bell) rode a heck of a race."

Honda rider Matt Gable demolished the competition in the combined 250cc/Intermediate/Up The Hill/30-40 class first moto but had his share of troubles in the second contest, enabling Suzuki rider Monte Hill a fantastic race in the second moto. Hill holeshot the moto, never looking back, beating Up the Hill winner Bob Annen, and 30-40 Pros Dave Eakin, Ron Milligan and Rick Bault. Hill breezed to an easy win, good for 250 Intermediate overall ahead of Dennis Rotherham, while the real action was seen in a battle for the top spot in the 30-40 Pro class.

Eakin, who won the first moto, had his hands full with Bault, who took the lead three laps into the race, only to crash, and then Milligan, beating Milligan by a wheel at the finish for a 1-1 sweep. Ryan Leach, on a 250 Maico, trailed Yamaha rider Todd Burchett in the first 250 Junior moto, but got revenge by beating the YZ pilot in moto two to take a hard-earned win. Chris Brown took third overall.

Darland dusts 'em at Sonoyta to Rocky Point Hare & Hound

By Michael Ross

SONOYTA, MEXICO, NOV. 11

Sunnyslope Honda-sponsored Jeff Darland of Phoenix clinched his fifth consecutive American Desert Racing Association's Overall Championship Saturday during the 14th running of the 125-mile Sonoyta-to-Rocky Point Hare & Hound.

Averaging 54.25 mph for 2:18:15, Darland roosted his way to the season finale win over Dirt and Street Unlimited's Destry Abbott by over 10 minutes. Although he rode well, Abbott's KTM 250 was at a severe top speed disadvantage to Darland's Honda CR500 on the very fast course (particularly the latter half that ran through miles of smooth, fast beach sand) and was later slowed by a flat front tire and a nearly bald rear tire.

Darland capped off his 1990 season with five wins in six tries. He sat out the previous race in October because he couldn't find a bike to ride then fell at the Heber 100 a month earlier and ended up in third. Although the cable TV technician had his problems with a flat front tire and smashing his hand into a barrel cactus during the race, he did capitalize on early race leader Jim Thompson's misfortune.

Thompson outpaced Darland by nearly two minutes at the halfway point but ran out of gas with over 25 miles to go. Darland stopped and gave Thompson his spare gas but the Colorado kid ran it dry again several miles before the finish line.

"I hitched a ride in by holding onto the tailgate of this local guy's pickup," explained a tired and disappointed Thompson. "We've never had a problem like this. I can't understand why it (his CR500) couldn't make it on the gas we had. I think I'm cursed here."

Taking third overall in 2:30:07 was Ken Kozlik. "There was so much dust I missed my pit at the third checkpoint and spent the whole second part of the race trying to catch up," said Kozlik.

After a year's hiatus to get married and seek more sponsorship, fourth overall finisher Dan Marchand bought back the bike he sold last year just to ride the Sonoyta-to-Rocky Point race. "This one is a must," said Marchand. "I bought my old bike back so I could race."

Claiming fifth overall at 2:33:14 and first in the 28+ Senior Expert division was Kenneth Stumpff.

"That was the best ride of my life," said the 35-year-old racer. "I got the holeshot and never saw anyone again. It's great to be back."

Stumpff was seriously injured when he crashed his bike at high speed during the first race of the season in San Manuel, Arizona, and broke his back.

Asher awesome at LACR MX

By Tony Alessi

PALMDALE, CA, NOV. 25

Suzuki-mounted Tracy Asher scored the overall win in the 250cc Novice class and finished second in the 125cc Novice class during CRC Motocross at LACR.

Jeff Finch pulled out to the early 250cc Novice lead but was quickly displaced by Gary Carivan and Asher. Carivan led for three laps before Asher went by for good. Asher pounded away to finish with a big lead over Carivan, while Brad Dawson recovered from a poor start to pass Finch for third.

Carivan shot out front of the second moto and opened a small lead over Asher. Carivan rode well but Asher casually reeled in the Suzuki rider, landing the big pass by the end of the fourth lap. Asher rode away while Carivan rode conservatively in second. Dawson, again, charged from back in the pack to assume third by the moto's end.

Asher had a lot rougher time in the 125cc Novice race as former 80cc rider Lex Malan was unstoppable. Malan took it wire to wire in the first moto building up a 25 second lead by the end of the moto. Asher charged from 14th to finish second. Erik Lindstrom and Mark Allen argued over third with Lindstrom getting the nod.

The second moto saw Brent Greer out front with first moto winner Malan behind. Out of nowhere Garey Carlson pushed his way into the lead. Greer dropped back to third, while Malan and Carlson went at it. Asher was last again and was knifing his way through the pack. At the halfway point Malan stormed to the lead and never looked back. Carlson barely held on to second finishing a few feet in front of Asher, who successfully charged to third by the moto's end. Mark Allen and Jared Jacobsmeyer finished fourth and fifth respectively.

Tim Telford picked up first place cash in the 250cc Pro class after fighting off the pain of broken knuckles. Tony Sulek won the first moto but a crash in the second moto left him without enough energy to catch Telford for the overall.

Bill Sauro smoked the 250cc Intermediate class with lap times that the pros would respect. Robbie Dunahm and Rob Petrim swapped positions with Dunham emerging second. Petrim rode well despite a lingering foot injury, while George Wallis finished fourth aboard his new Honda, which he won in the drawing at the L.A. Coliseum Supercross.

Leach, Daily land Salem AX win

By Clay Light

SALEM, OR, NOV. 17

Roby Leach, riding a new KTM 500, rode a magnificant second moto in the combined Open class to net his second overall win of the weekend, during Arenacross action at the Oregon State Fairgrounds in Salem. What made Leach's performance a stellar one was the fact that the Albany resident beat several seasoned pro riders en-route to his second win in as many nights.

Honda World of Coos Bay-sponsored Jeff Daily also rode superbly, winning both 125cc Pro motos, and was the clear runaway winner in each outing, to join 23 overall class winners at the completion of the best evening yet in the series of races at the Jackman-Long Arena. Daily gated precisely in the first 125cc Pro contest, which ran combined with the 250cc Pros, to lead Kawasaki rider Chad Berry, Mike Hamness, Grayson Hart and Brian Woodring through the series of whoop-de-doos.

Daily, much as he's done all season long, motored away from the competition, leaving the competition to squabble for second place. A three-way battle between Berry, Hart and Hamness brought the crowd to life until about halfway through the 10-lapper. That's when Hart, Berry and Hamness tangled, allowing Berry, who remounted first, to settle into second all to himself, where he'd finish, well behind Daily, but ahead of Woodring, Hart, Hamness and brother Terry.

Daily didn't waste any time vaulting into the lead in the second contest, attacking each and every Bob Leach-designed obstacle that came before him with the intensity that should in time land him some decent finishes on the 125cc National circuit if he maintains his current pace. This moto Daily had some competition by Hart, but towards the end of the shortened race, dropped back to a distant second ahead of Berry, Woodring and the Hamness brothers.

Leach had to follow pro rider Don Boespflug the entire six laps of the first combined Open Pro/Intermediate moto, finishing second to the Kawasaki rider, but came back to stuff Boespflug out of the lead coming out of turn two at the start of the second contest. Boespflug prodded every option in an attempt to take Leach's lead, but each time Leach would slam the door on the seasoned pro. In fact, KTM rider Frank McKuhn, also a long-time pro, rode in the number three spot to the finish behind Leach, who felt good about beating the pros, and Boespflug.

Batty fights back at Territorial Motocross

By Don Schneider

EUGENE, OR, NOV. 11

Territorial MX saw the comeback of Dane Batty. The 125/250cc Intermediate pilot tallied 1-2 moto finishes after an 11 week injury layoff.

Moto one in the 125cc Intermediate class saw Travis Berry gated perfectly, while Batty and Dunn settled into second and third, respectively. Batty soon pulled away from the advances of Dunn. Making up major ground by midmoto, Batty was in hot pursuit of Berry.

Four laps into the moto, Batty was moving in for the classic pass. Berry coming into turn two a little hot, took his Kawasaki a little too wide. Taking advantage of this, Batty squared up early, going inside-outside, getting the good drive on his Suzuki. This must have blew Berry's concentration as Batty motored away to a 15-plus second lead over Berry, followed by Dunn.

In the 125cc Pro class, Gary Beyer outpowered Jeff Daily early on in moto one. Beyer soon wicked it up to a smooth three second lead.

The momentum seemed to be in Daily's favor, though, as two-and-a-half laps around the circuit Daily was pressuring. Coming down the straight after the midcircuit doubles, Daily had the inside groove dialed in. Going into the hard left-hander Daily played tag with Beyer. Beyer was pushed wide into the soft ground, as Daily pushed his Honda past for the lead.

Beyer ate Daily's roost the rest of the moto to finish up a mere three seconds behind Daily.

Moto two saw Berry, again, get the jump on the field. Batty was also fighting off Dunn close behind. Batty seemed to fall into a consistent pace hoping for a mistake by Berry. Dunn, again, couldn't keep up the blistering pace of the leaders and eventually backed off.

Berry had a little more stamina on Batty, as it was a flawless moto victory. This gave him the overall via the second moto win. Batty closed the gap up on the leader, but the layoff has cost him the overall.

Moto two saw Beyer blast his KTM into the early lead, again. This time, however, Daily made quick haste of Beyer. Going into the S turns, halfway through the first circuit, Daily wasted no time for the pass and the lead. Beyer ate his roost, again, the entire moto.

Spencer wins two at SDR Mud/Snow Scrambles

By Tom Blachek

HARPURSVILLE, NY, NOV. 18

Jim Spencer won the Expert class and Senior A class at the opening round of Square Deal Riders' Mud in Your Eye Mud/Snow Scrambles Series. The tight, technical course was very rough and muddy, with few riders able to maintain a fast pace over the one mile course. But 40 year old Spencer seemed oblivious to the conditions.

One hundred seven riders signed up to ride the scrambles, which was also the New York State Championship Scrambles Series. The temperature hovered around freezing despite sunny skies. By the time the last race began, the muddy track was beginning to freeze.

Dave Sanford won the Super Senior class by a full lap over Joe Arcesi. This was the first time the class had been offered in several years. It had been dropped due to lack of riders, but if the riders who signed up Sunday are an indication, it may become a popular class this season.

In the Senior B class Brad Flint grabbed the holeshot and ran away for the win. Scott Sinnett, Tom Dougherty, Richard Holbert and Tom Blachek battled for second. On the third lap Sinnett got into trouble and slipped to fifth. Lap four saw Blachek move by Dougherty and Holbert to take second. On lap five Holbert and Blachek swapped positions twice with Blachek finishing second and Holbert settling for third.

Lamson wins at Prairie City MX

By Nuklear Neukam

SACRAMENTO, CA, NOV. 11

Pro Circuit/Works Connection/Honda-sponsored Steve Lamson ran away with both motos in the 125 and 250cc Pro classes at Great Northern Promotions' CMC Motocross races at Prairie City SVRA.

As has become standard procedure lately Lamson would take the win and Team Green Kawasaki-mounted Ray Crumb would finish runner-up.

In the 250cc Pro class CPE Suzuki-backed Scott Myers was able to post a pair of thirds for third overall, while a 4-5 tally earned Scooter McElroy fourth overall. Honda-mounted Tim McClintock captured fifth overall after finishing fifth in round one and salvaging a seventh in the final moto.

Finishing behind Lamson and Crumb in the first 125cc Pro moto was Kawasaki-mounted Ricky Lutz, with Livermore Yamaha-mounted Julio Bruce finishing a close fourth. Husky-mounted Danny Paladino rounded out the top five.

McElroy was flying in moto two and held off Paladino for third, but a first moto seventh held Scooter to fourth overall, while Paladino edged him out for third overall. Bruce followed fellow Yamaha rider Jed Green — a first moto crash victim — in for sixth and rounded out the top five overall finishes.

Moore scores Ventura Raceway Motocross win

By Joe Zipay

VENTURA, CA, NOV. 17

Factory KTM rider Bobby Moore came home on holiday after competing in the Supercross at Barcelona, Spain, and he came out to Ventura Raceway to get in a little practice before heading back over to France for the Paris Supercross. Moore may have gotten a little more than he bargained for, though, when he tangled with local favorite Randy Moody in the 250cc Pro class. What started out as a yawner turned into an out and out dogfight.

Moore, aboard a stock KTM 250, got off the line first in moto one ahead of Moody, Jim Holley and Tracy Monterone. The KTM rider opened up a quick lead and never looked back. Moody finished a distant second. Monterone took third after Holley dropped out early.

Randy Moody came out like a tiger for the second moto. The Honda rider roared down the start straight to take the early lead with Moore and Monterone in tow. Moore stuck to Moody's back tire.

On lap three of the eight-lap moto, Moody carried too much momentum over the tabletop and went wide in the next corner, allowing Moore to get by on the inside. A few corners later, Moody took an extremely tight line, clearly inside the apex of the unmarked turn and slammed Moore, using the KTM for a berm. Moore followed Moody like a shadow, and then a lap later in the same corner, the KTM rider took the very same line and attempted a block pass, but Moody got on the brakes hard, and when Moore slid past, Moody shot underneath and back into the lead. The two riders traded the lead back and forth and swapped paint several times, as the race heated up. At one point Moore got a good drive out of a corner and put a wheel in front of Moody in midair over a double jump, the two riders were so close it appeared that Moore got whacked in the head by Moody's front tire. Moody hung on to the lead until he cut a flat left-handed corner a little too close and caught a big tire with his front wheel. Moody, trying to recover, drifted into Moore's line and they both went down on top of each other.

It was a mad scramble to get going again, as both riders kicked their bikes and exchanged words. Amazingly both bikes fired up at the exact same time and they were at it again with Moody in front and Moore only inches behind.

Meanwhile, back in third place, Monterone was playing to the crowd, turning a set of doubles and a single jump into a monstrous triple.

On the last lap, jut when it seemed that Moore was backing off a bit, Moody got out of shape while working through lappers and launched off a big double. The Honda rider came down so hard he knocked himself unconscious, handing the race to Moore. With his fist in the air Moore took the checkered flag and the overall victory on the night. The large crowd on hand stood silently for several anxious minutes until Moody got back on his feet. Moore also rode over to the check on the fallen rider in a good show of sportsmanship.

Woodring wins Salem Arenacross thriller

By Clay Light

SALEM, OR, NOV. 16

Suzuki rider Brian Woodring failed to win either 125cc Pro motos at Salem's Oregon State Fairgrounds Arenacross, but 2-2 moto finishes was enough to top a talent-laden field of 125cc Pros.

Woodring, making his arenacross debut at the Jackson-Long Arena, showed the good sized crowd of spectators on hand that he's a force to be reckoned with, as did southern Oregon rider Chad Berry, riding a Kawasaki. In fact, the duo of Berry and Woodring finished 1-2 in the first moto by beating Gary Beyer, Jeff Daily and Kenny Olsen.

It wasn't, however, without some bad luck on the part of the trio, though, as Olsen, Beyer and Daily tangled coming into turn one in the first moto, allowing both Berry and Woodring to break away from the local riders. Berry rode a fantastic race, as did Woodring, enabling them to take the 1-2 spots at the completion. Woodring held off KTM-mounted Beyer to take the number two spot; Beyer, Daily and Olsen filled the top five.

Olsen and Daily ran side by side into turn one in the second moto, but coming through the whoop-de-doos, Daily took the lead, a lead that the Eugene rider would take to the finish. Olsen, the local favorite, ran second until the midway point when Woodring made a stellar move to overtake Olsen for second. Olsen hounded the Suzuki rider for the remaining five laps, but couldn't slip past. This enabled Woodring to capture the overall win via a 2-2 score. Daily used 4-1 showings to take second overall ahead of Berry, who finished fourth in moto two.

Another exceptional performance was displayed by Isaac Dawson, who's been tearing up the Pee Wee and 60cc classes, both indoor and outdoors. Dawson tonight overcame a second moto second-place finish in the 50cc class to take his first of two overall wins (50cc) ahead of second moto winner Greg Blackwell, while his second overall came by virtue of 2-2 placings. Casey Johnson won the second 60cc Junior moto to trail Dawson in the overall tallies after a moto two win.

Rivas romps at Westhampton Raceway Motocross

By Jim and Carolyn Simpson

WESTHAMPTON, NY, NOV, 18

Tuf Racing-sponsored Jason Rivas romped to back-to-back moto wins to win the 125cc Pro Expert class at the finale of the Long Island Sports Committe's season at Westhampton Raceway.

Moto one started with Rivas in the lead and Jerry Seip in hot pursuit. Seip stayed right with Rivas until Seip washed out in a corner. Gary Lussur then moved up into second place, but Rivas claimed the win with Lussur second and Seip, who remounted, taking third.

Rivas again grabbed the holeshot in moto two with Lussur and Seip running a close second and third, respectively. Seip cranked it up and passed Lussur over the finish line jump, but in the back section Lussur stayed on the gas and caught up with leader Rivas. From mid-moto until the finish Rivas and Lussur formed a freight train through the Westhampton sand, but at the flag Rivas claimed the moto win and the overall victory. Lussur took second and Seip third.

Robert Walton took the lead at the start of the first 500cc Amateur class with John Carucci following closely. By mid-race Stein had taken the lead with Carucci and Zorn in tow. Carucci crashed and Zorn moved up to pass Stein and motored away for the win ahead of Stein.

Walton again took the initial lead in moto two, followed by Paul Wertheimer and Zorn. At the end of lap one Zorn had taken over the lead and Stein took over second. Carucci wicked it up to challenge and passed Stein. At moto's end, Zorn was the winner, Carucci second and Stein third.

A few riders battled till the season's last moto to determine 1990 season class titles. In the Mini 12-13 class Ed Dondero and Eric Flagg dueled until the last lap where Flagg edged out Dondero for the moto win but Dondero claimed the season overall.

Liedberg sweeps Greasewood Hollow Motocross

By Dale Bohm

DELTA, UT, NOV. 11

Steve Liedberg swept both motos in the 125 and 250cc Expert classes at the Greasewood Hollow MX track.

In 250cc Expert action, Brad Frampton grabbed the lead with Chance Maughan and Liedberg in tow. Newgate Honda's Liedberg wasted little time getting around Maughan and set out after Frampton. As Frampton approached the tabletop jump, his front-end washed out and he slammed into the ground. Liedberg inherited the lead which he never relinquished. Vince Lucero worked his way close to Liedberg, but had to settle for second. Corky Maughan worked up to third but was gunned down by Marlo Painter late in the race.

In moto two, Corky Maughan grabbed the holeshot over Liedberg, Painter and Brad Bolton. Liedberg battled past Maughan for the lead while Bolton worked up past Painter in lap three and set out after Maughan. Liedberg cruised out front to the finish over Bolton, while Painter got by Maughan for third.

In 125cc Amateur class action, Bo Riddle grabbed the lead over Chris Cooksey, Brad Reusch and Bodie Bates. Riddle and Cooksey waged war until lap three when Riddle went down. Cooksey held first to the flag over Reusch and Riddle.

Moto two belonged to Riddle as the Suzuki rider grabbed the lead and never looked back. Cooksey held second to the finish.

Loreman, Calkins gun down Clarks Branch Motocross

By Don Schneider

ROSEBURG, OR, NOV. 4

Dana Loreman used a 1-1 tally over Kevin Calkin's 2-2 to chalk up the overall win in the 125cc Beginner class at Carolyn and Ralph Huffman's Clark Branch Cycle Park MX.

In moto one Seth Card got the early jump ahead of Loreman, Tivian, Calkins and Hurd. Card went wide in turn one, as Loreman took the lead on the inside.

Mike Shield, who jumped off to a sixth place start, moved to fifth by lap three and then took advantage of Card, as he took a major soil sample. Tivian in second had his hands full with Calkins hounding him for a pass.

Going into the back of the track, Calkins emerged the victor on lap four. But it was too late of a charge by Calkins, as Loreman wicked it up 10 seconds by the finish. Calkins, meanwhile, had his hands full with Shield at the checkers. Card and Hegebe rounded out the top five.

Moto two, Card showed his roost again to the field ahead of Calkins, Loreman, Hind and Shield. Card's lead was short-lived, again as Calins wasted no time moving into the lead by outbraking Card.

By lap two, Loreman made his move on Card in the back to gain second. The same lap, Shield slammed by Hurd for fourth. At the finish it was another Loreman moto victory over Calkins. Card's 4-3 netted him third over Shields' 3-4, with Hurd netting fifth via 6-5 over Hegele's 5-6.

Nixon nails Powerline Park Motocross win

By Rick Lynch

NEW EGYPT, NJ, NOV. 18

Duane Nixon fought his way to a pair of moto wins in the 125cc C class at Powerline Park's season finale.

Nixon got a good start in the first moto, while Paul Waslin began to charge to the front after starting in the middle of the pack. Waslin's charge was halted for three laps as he tried to get around second-place James McGinnis and after he did Waslin moved in to finish on winner Nixon's rear fender.

Nixon was away first in the final moto as both Waslin and McGinnis suffered poor starts. Waslin again charged to the front with McGinnis in his tracks until he encountered second-place Ty Kontrath. Nixon took the moto win while Waslin was unable to pass Kontrath and finished third.

In the first Open Amateur class moto, Rich Rike stalled at the starting gate and began the race in last place. But by the end of the moto Rike had passed 19 other riders to finish second behind Jason Bartley.

Rike got the holeshot in the second moto and led all the way with Bartley finishing second.

Northwest Pro MXers invade Woodland Motocross

By Don Schneider

WOODLAND, WA, NOV. 10

The top professional riders of the northwest waged war at Woodland MX. To name a few, Allan Dyck, Tony Graves, Lance Smail, Scott Steffy, Don Boespflug and 21 other 125/500cc pros took to the shortest track put together ever at Woodland MX Park. The one minute 20 second lap times amongst the pros went by so fast that there was no time for error.

Jeff Daily pulled the holeshot in moto one in the 125cc Pro moto with Bell, Dyck, Steffy and Steve Friesen rounding out the top five. Halfway through lap one Bell went down. Steffy made a great pass on Dyck for second with Smail moving up to fourth. Going into the woods, Steffy motored by Daily for the lead. Dyck, Friesen, Smail and Hamness went in to the woods together. Coming out of the woods Steffy had the lead. Suddenly Frienson popped out in second followed by Dyck, Smail, Hamness and Daily a close sixth. Graves, starting in 13th, had moved up to ninth.

By lap two Dyck made a move by Friesen before the woods and moved by Steffy in the woods. This put Dyck into the lead for the rest of the moto. Graves' lap times were three seconds faster than the leader and he was making up major ground. By the end of lap two he was in sixth.

By lap three Smail moved by Friesen for third, while trying to get away from Graves.

Hard on the gas on lap three, Graves blew past Daily, then Friesen over the triples. Coming out of the woods on the end of lap three, the order was Dyck, Steffy, Smail, Graves and Friesen. Graves, pressuring Smail in a hard right-hander, motored by on lap four, as Smail took a soil sample.

Graves reeled-in Steffy halfway through lap five going into the woods. Coming out of the woods, Graves was trying all he could to get by Steffy. On lap six, Graves jumped the double into the woods one bike length behind Steffy. Coming out of the woods, Dyck was in the lead with Steffy second. Graves came out six seconds behind Steffy in third.

Graves moved up to within two bike lengths on Steffy by the finish for third, but it was Dyck getting the nod for the win. Smail ended up fourth ahead of Friesen.

Moto two, Adam West took the early lead with Dyck, Steffy, Bell and Smail rounding out the top five. Graves, again with a poor start, was in eighth.

Coming out of the woods on lap one, Dyck and Steffy motored by West. Bell and Smail were trying to fight off Graves, as Graves had already moved by Daily, Hamness and Friesen. Flying over the main Graves moved into fifth ahead of Smail.

Halfway through lap two, Bell was pressuring West around a left-hander going over a jump, when West's front tire got caught in the groove and slammed him, as Graves flew over both of them for third. Smail was next by the two on the ground. Bell remounted quickly to stay in fifth.

Out of the woods on lap three, saw Dyck with a four second lead on Steffy, as Graves was now pressuring for a pass. Steffy kept Graves at bay for three laps, until Graves had tried to make a pass through the right-hand silt corner. Pushing the inside too hot, Graves washed out letting Steffy move on. Smail capitolized on the fall of Graves and held down fourth.

At moto end, Dyck held on to the advances of Steffy. Smail, Graves, Bell and Friesen rounded out the top six.

Johnson rocks Perris Grand Prix

By Tony Alessi

PERRIS, CA, NOV. 11

Ryan Johnson powered his Hondas to the overall 125cc Amateur class win at the Double Cross Grand Prix at Perris Raceway. Over 300 riders packed the Perris pits in anticipation for 45 minutes of non-stop racing.

Johnson started midpack during the 125cc Amateur race. Chris Ridgeway led most of the first 20 minutes but ran into shock problems.

"My shock was working wrong, something must have broke or something," said Ridgeway.

Johnson carved through the pack and knifed inside Ridgeway for the lead. At the same time Jeff Fine began to flounder up front in the Expert class.

"I got a bad case of stomach cramps, I could hardly breath," said Fine.

Fine's half track lead quickly diminished and Jim Kuntz took over for good. Johnson continued to stomp the Amateur class, again, lapping all the Novices, including leader Wright this time. Johnson took the checkered flag well in front of Ridgeway, Cornelius and John Wall.

Garth Milan led wire to wire in the 80cc Beginner class and was chased by only David Hughes early in the moto.

Eric Seeley was the only rider of all 80cc riders entered to beat Milan: Seeley won the Novice class.

Rod Richards was perfect in the Vet Expert class and simply walked all over the competition with his smooth flowing riding style. Marc Johnson rode very wild early in the moto but lost sight of leader Richards by the halfway point. Tracy Hrach picked up third after Jim Hanson crashed back to fourth in front of Peter Vetrano.

Kowalczyk wins Echeconne MX

By Dene Olive

MACON, GA, NOV. 18

Honda-mounted Kenny Kowalczyk used a 2-2 score to claim the win in the 125cc B class at Echeconne Motocross.

South Carolina rider John Urbon grabbed the holeshot in the first moto with Lance Newsome and Kowalcczyk following closely. By lap three Kowalczyk was able to make the pass on Newsome, but the leader Urbon was out of reach. On the white flag lap Brad Hayes passed Newsome on the downhill section dropping Newsome to fourth, with Paul Cline rounding out the top five.

Moto two found Newsome grabbing the holeshot ahead of Andre Pene, Urbon and Kowalczyk. By lap two all the action was up front between Newsome and Pene, with one going into a turn first and the other coming out first. The lead swapped back and forth four times with what looked like Pene taking control. Pene went into a turn before the tabletop and his front tire hit wrong putting Pene on the ground. Newsome took the checkered flag first followed by Kowalczyk, Urbon, Hayes and Cline.

When the gate dropped for the first moto of the 125cc C class Gary Kellum led the 21 rider field around the first turn with Scott Moore, Greg Tysor and Ryan Ballard following. Behind everyone was fighting for a position because of a first turn crash. Kellum's lead was short-lived, as Moore passed him on the uphill section with an outside line. By the white flag lap Tysor got the inside line on Kellum dropping him to third. Ballard took the checkered flag for fourth place and P.J. Howell a victim of the first turn crash finished fifth.

Moto two saw Kellum, once again, pull the holeshot with Howell and Moore on his rear fender. By the end of lap one Howell moved into the lead and Moore moved past Kellum. Howell and Moore battled on lap two for the lead, with Moore coming out on top for the lead and moto win followed by Howell, Tysor, Dickie Fountain and Lawrence Klein.

Leivan, Letellier lead SFT Team Hare Scrambles

By Phil Ellsworth

CARBONDALE, KS, NOV. 11

Steve Leivan and Leigh Letellier combined for the win at the Team Hare Scrambles held at Santa Fe Trail Cycle Park.

This popular annual event marked the end of the Kansas Motorcycle Sportsman Association season. One hundred 13 riders from four states competed in the three-hour event. The format of the race allowed two riders to share a bike or ride their own, but only one team rider was allowed on the course at a time. A week of bad weather disappeared by race day, leaving the course in primo condition. A rocky goat trail and water crossing section kept everyone entertained during practice, but was bypassed during the race due to sniveling by some riders.

The first wave of Experts and Amateurs was hotly contested. Shon Doughty took the early lead followed by Bart Shiflett and Letellier. Letellier moved into second by the third lap, and with Leivan did 12 laps for the overall and first Expert. They were followed by the Suzuki-mounted duo of Shiflett and Marc Gifford, second Expert, and the team of Doughty and Joe Ramerz, first 250. Fourth overall was taken by the team of Keith Lewandowski and Kirk Payne, who earned their checks on 125s. CN
